

NEW WOOD BURNING STOVES WIN INSTANT ACCLAIM

Since the recent launch of Burley's T3 wood burning stoves the company has received remarkable feedback, including the following example.

"I had a 12kW stove installed in my house last week. The heat from it is so phenomenal that the dog gets up and scurries away when he hears the stove door opening!

The air control is easy to adjust and gives an immediate response. Make sure you get the room sealing kit with it as well as that will avoid the house air being taken into the stove. The air vent pipes scrub the heat out of the flue and push a lot of heat into the room. The stove gets so hot that the wood gas burns and by tweaking the air down you will get flames dancing around inside, igniting in mid-air, a bit like 'will o' the wisp' stuff."

Steve Barson, Burley's managing director, said: "I believe we have produced the world's most efficient wood burning stove and it is deeply rewarding to receive such positive feedback so soon after the stoves were launched."

November 2010